

Meet Your Match Adoption Program

Have you wondered why our adoptable dogs and cats have different colors of cage cards and are wearing purple, orange, or green bandanas in their pictures on the website? The answer is the ASPCA's Meet Your Match Adoption Program. In June 2005 Larimer Humane Society implemented the program for dogs called Canine-ality or Puppy-ality and in March 2007 the program for cats was implemented called Feline-ality. These programs help determine the friendliness, playfulness, and energy level to find a good match for the potential adopters home. Potential adopters are asked to fill out a quick survey that tells them if their household is purple, orange or green! Come in and see what color is best for your home!

Dogs and cats are placed into one of three categories:

- Easy (purple)
- Average (orange)
- High maintenance (green)

Want to learn more? Watch the Meet Your Match feline-ality video!